

Privacy- and Cookie Statement

Gasolec B.V. respects the privacy of the visitors of our website and we will ensure that the personal information you provide to us is treated confidentially. All processing of personal data is carried out in accordance with the applicable statutory requirements.

Purposes of data processing

We process personal data for the purposes of entering into and carrying out agreements and managing relationships arising from those agreements, including conducting activities to increase our client base.

If you complete a contact or registration form on our website or send us an email, the data you send us will be retained for as long as required to fully process the form or answer the email, given the nature of the form or the content of the email.

In situations where website visitors fill in our 'Contact us' form on the website, we may pass on all information provided to us to a Gasolec Dealer/Distributor so they can use this information to approach these visitors more professionally. At the same time this information will be treated confidentially.

Clicking behaviour and visitor data

The website collects general visitor data. This may specifically involve the registration of your computer's IP address, your username, if any, the time of retrieval and data sent by your browser, which may be used for statistical analyses of the visitor and clicking behaviour on our website. This enables us, among other things, to optimize the functioning of the website.

Where possible, Gasolec B.V. anonymizes any data it discloses. No data are disclosed to third parties outside the Gasolec group.

Google Analytics

We use Google Analytics to monitor how users use our website and to monitor the effectiveness of our Adwords adverts that appear next to Google search results. The information thus obtained, including your computer's IP address, is transferred to and stored on servers in the United States by Google. For more information, Gasolec B.V. refers you to the Privacy Policy of Google and Google Analytics.

Google uses this information to monitor how our website is used, to report to us about our website, and to provide its advertisers with information about the effectiveness of their campaigns. Google may disclose this information to third parties if Google is required to do so by law, or if these third parties process the information on Google's behalf. We cannot influence this.

Social Media

Social media platforms include buttons to promote or share pages in social networks. These buttons rely on a code that is supplied by the platform itself. This code places a cookie and other data.

For more information on what social media platforms do with your personal data and how they process this code, please check the social media platforms' privacy statements (which may change regularly).

Use of cookies

In offering our electronic services we use cookies. A cookie is a simple small file that is sent along with the pages of this website and stored on your computer's hard disk. We use cookies to remember your settings and preferences. You can disable these cookies via your browser. For instructions on how you can change your cookie settings, please contact your browser provider.

The American company Google places cookies via our website as part of its Analytics service. We use this service to monitor how users use our website and to receive reports about this. Google may disclose this information to third parties if Google is required to do so by law, or if these third parties process the information on Google's behalf. We cannot influence this.

Access, corrections and right to object

If you send us a written request to access your data, Gasolec B.V. will enable you to access them. You can also inform us in writing if you do not wish to be contacted about our products and services.

You can send these written requests to the following address:

Gasolec B.V. Griekenlandweg 3 2411 PZ Bodegraven The Netherlands
